MUSIC

Memphis Seven Jazz Band...

Starting the live music off at 12 noon is The Memphis Seven Jazz Band, with ragtime music of the time. They have been entertaining audiences since 1971 and will make sure the festival is off to a magnificent start.

CHEATIN' HEARTS

A Cardiff based band that play a mixture of new country songs and old favourites. With Steph singing, Phil playing guitar and singing, John guitar, Rich bass and Keith on drums, don't expect to hear "Stand by your man" but do expect to hear some real cool country gems. (Notice the picture taken is on the 100 year old bridge).

Alistair...

Alistair will be performing throughout the day; he is a talented electro-acoustic guitar player from Bridgend. He plays many genres including self-written pieces. Watch and be amazed by him when he taps and plays his guitar.

Llandovery Male Voice Choir...

Our wonderful Male Voice Choir will entertain you with traditional Welsh harmonies.

Jomboco...

A band consisting of local youth, with violins, guitars, trumpets and a plethora of other stringed instruments, enjoy listening to gypsy and folk music.

My Crooked Teeth...

Solo Artist Jack Olchawski is based in Oxford and has played many venues in the London area. The frontman of Americana/ folk outfit Toliesel, this is his solo project and he can be expected to perform his early releases!

The Desperations...

Consisting of three local young men (one of whom was a singer in "Only Boys Aloud"), sing, dance and enjoy an enthralling session of music.

Strange Affair...

Local musician-songwriters Tim and Fiona sing songs of love, war, dreams and slow dancing on quicksand. They will sing a song written to commemorate the anniversary of the bridge and several others inspired by the Towy Valley...

Disco...

Finally, finish the night a boogieing and a dancing to Neal's special mixes.
